YOUR CAREER WILL CHOOSE YOU

It does not surprise me anymore why people perceive me as a 'difficult woman'. Of course as a bright science student, my inclination towards Osho, Shakespeare, D.H. Lawrence and Alice walker had long back twisted my story with all extra ordinary sensitive Energies. "English Major" was the first confirmation that dealing with my head and heart would always be a challenge for this judgmental, controlling and non-reciprocating surrounding.

under the Guidance of Dr. Neeru Tandan ma'am inked one thing deeply in my hear that Literature would make you wise and vocal, Rebel and Less Acceptable, Sensitive and Emphatic, Vulnerable and Strong altogether...But it will cost you your Nice Girl Syndrome. As an emotional soul, emphatic heart, I would conclude myself as "मुझे ना मिल सकेगा मिजाज किसी का, मुझे तो गुलाब भी काले पंसन्द है"

I seriously understand that a society where Sylvia Plath was a declared depressed, Simone was anti-social, Charlotte Bronte was a conformist, D H Lawrence was a borderline, and Osho was a Cancer to this Society-Old Souls like me can never be a fit in. Doctorate
